In 1989, the Romanian Revolution liberated the country from the abusive ideology of Communism.

A black and white photograph of a church building. The church features a large, arched window with a decorative pediment above it. The pediment is adorned with intricate carvings. Below the window, there are more carvings and a small plaque. In the foreground, a wooden fence made of thick, dark logs is visible, partially obscuring the view of the church. The sky is overcast.

The church welcomed suffering for the cause of Christ, which resulted in the maturity of the church.

During those hard years,
the Romanian church received support from the church abroad, including bibles smuggled across closed borders.

The generosity of the church hasn't been forgotten.

The Romanian church is grateful.

From Receivers to Givers

Paul's View of Suffering (62 A.D.)

Philippians 1:29

“It has been granted to you on behalf of Christ not only to believe in him, but also to suffer for His sake.”

Paul's List of Sufferings (55 A.D.)

2 Corinthians 11:24-28

Paul's Mindset When Suffering (55 A.D.)

2 Corinthians 1:8-11

He relied on God remembering that:

- God has delivered us
- God is delivering us
- God will deliver us

Paul's View of Suffering (62 A.D.)

Philippians 1:29

“It has been granted to you on behalf of Christ not only to believe in him, but also to suffer for His sake.”

From Receivers to Givers

The church is now ready to “give back” to the needy world.

They are mature, evangelical, and missional in their own country and now want to be missionaries abroad.

They are ready to participate in cross-cultural church planting. They desire help to become church planters in foreign contexts among the least reached.

The churches plea

A person is standing on a rocky path at the base of a large, powerful waterfall. The waterfall is the central focus, with water cascading down a dark rock face. The surrounding landscape is lush and green, with a blue sky and white clouds visible in the background. The person is silhouetted against the bright light of the waterfall, looking up at the falling water.

“Regarding missions-we are very open. We want to learn and want to be pushed.”

“We need to look more and see the unreached world. We need people who have done it to share with us. We need to get people out of their comfort zone. We need to have a new understanding of missions, a revival.”

“Your story and approach to missions can be revolutionary for the Romanian church. I believe this can be the next reformation for the church.”
